

CARCO FCU Website Security Policy

Financial privacy

CARCO Federal Credit Union respects the personal and financial privacy of all of its members. We are committed to protecting the information on and within our website with the same safety and confidentiality standards utilized in the transaction of all CARCO FCU business.

CARCO FCU does not collect personal information from users of its website. However, we do collect and store non-personal information for the express purpose of tracking website use in order to improve design, service and/or site navigation tools.

Disclaimer

CARCO FCU is not liable for the content or availability of any sites linked to our site. CARCO FCU does not endorse nor is it affiliated with any third-party entity which may have provided a link to this website, unless specifically stated. CARCO FCU does not endorse, nor is it necessarily affiliated with any entity to which you may link from this website.

Email communication

To respond to inquiries for service or information, Credit Union employees may use personal information that has been initiated and transmitted to CARCO FCU by the member.

Since email messages may not be secure against interception by unauthorized individuals, CARCO FCU encourages users to seek alternatives to email when it is necessary to provide sensitive or personal information. Likewise, CARCO FCU will not transmit information by email that could compromise a user's privacy.